

Celebrating Our 16th Season!

Farmer Joe's 2021 Forecast

The start of the 2021 season is well under way and going rather smoothly. This is not what we're accustomed to in the Springtime around here. The dry weather has moved planting along in a more timely manner without rain delays. If this Spring is any indication of what Summer will be like, then it will be dry and warm. I'm looking forward to a productive 16th season here at Seton Harvest with lots of good veggies from our fields for your shares. We anticipate the first Saturday pickup at the farm to be May 22nd. For those who selected Tuesdays, at the farm or Epworth Crossing, your first pickup day is expected to be Tuesday, May 25th. See you soon!
